Tiny Tudor is a company from Thailand now also in United Kingdom providing amazing range of Tiny Mobile Homes for Recreational, Residential and Commercial usage. We have amazing options that you can choose from and custom as per your own likings and preferences, but, we assure the best built quality i.e. top materials and well furnished to look as good and modern as it can be. Tiny Tudor has been launched to build Tiny Houses. As Tiny Houses are based on house construction rather than caravan construction. The transition in construction from traditional houses to mobile houses has been very easy. The only clear difference was building on a trailer rather than concrete footings. Our Managing Director Simon Petherburn is fully aware of the housing crisis that has swept through the Western World. He has seen first hand, how the young and upcoming generation can't get onto the property ladder and is in urgent need of an alternative form of housing. Simon is also aware of the changes required to meet the ecological footprint of how we all live today. Change is required and quickly. Tiny Houses could be an answer to both the housing crisis and contributing to the ecological upgrade needed for the future.
